☆Some Big Events in China

1. Chinese government suddenly change the policy of “Epidemic control” in the early of Dec. 2022, to fully reopen the economy, people are generally no longer required to present their nucleic acid test results when entering workplaces and public spaces or travelling to other regions. But due to winter season, Covid-19 spread very fast in lot of cities(almost 80% resident at Beijing, ChengDu, GuangZhou got it……), now a lot of people quarantine at home or working at home.

2. Starting on January 8, 2023, China will drop quarantine requirements for all passengers arriving from outside of the country’s borders. Travelers entering China from abroad will no longer need to apply for a Health Code from China’s embassies overseas, but they will still need to have a negative nucleic acid test result within 48 hours before departure. Upon arrival, travelers also don’t need to get tested. Furthermore, it will also scrap all other restrictive Covid measures for travelers, including quarantines for positive patients and contact tracing.

3. Holiday Notice:

Jan.21~Jan.27,2023 Chinese Spring Festival Holiday
(Usually extended to Feb. 05,2023 in some factories)

* In general case (but not sure), the price of many regular and common chemicals may come down a little before Chinese Spring Festival because many mfrs would like to get the cash before the holiday. The price will come up again after the holiday due to tight supply. We suggest to make the demand forecast for regular items in the next 3~6 months and recheck the market situation now before the holiday.
